MONDAY COORER & 145/

Ine returns from Us. elections in the Representative Districts on Monday last are now so far received, as to place the matter beyond all question, not only that the Wirigs have a majority in the House of Representatives, but that it is sufficiently large to make a very decided inajority in the joint ballot of the Schate and House.

Many of the districts in which good Whigh were elected to the Legislature on Monday bist, torial election, thus shewing that the revolution in popular sentiment is still advancing.

If the defeat of the tory candidate for Governor were the consequence of the unpopularity majority of 29 to 16 of the namination of Mr. Parks which seemed ; unighant revolutions in the Senate and House location of the democratic party. to be accounted for. Last year the tory majori-Ty in the former branch was FIFTEEN, this year it will not be more than THREE probably not more than two. Last year, the tory majority in the House was seventy this year the Whig inajority will be certainly six, and probably Twatter making a net Whig gain in both sainst the admission of Texas. branches of but little short of one HENDRED.

How much better and more manly it would be, to submit with patient resignation to their delcat acknowledging it, candidly, to be the uptna -- d expression of the majority in appositon to their doctrines, than thus dishonorably intended, as soon as the other amendments to creep about, in search of pegs to hang their doubts on. But this is no part of the creed of our opponents, the pacobins and loco-focos.

The election in the Hancock, or Union River District on Monday resulted in favor of Mr. Gray, a staunch Whig. These towns gave a large majority for Parks on the This alt.

MR. WEBSTER'S SPEECH in the Senate on the 2/th ult. is spoken of by all who heard it as decidedly the most powerful effort of argumen. tative eloquence which has been made during the present session of Congress. It was three hours in length, and listened to by the crowded necemblage of the Senate Chamber with undivided attention.

The question of a National Currency was handled with an irresistible force of argument paper was to banish coin; and as the banks and a beauty and exquisite felicity of illustration, talk of divorcing them from the Government, far exceeding the expectations of those who thought they knew the power of his mind, and falling nothing short of his previous efforts upon great Constitutional subjects. He stripped of its sophistry the Message of Van Buren, exposed and whenever it permitted an incontrovertible most thoroughly, the fallacinas absurdity of his pepersence how the country to the argument, and denounced the odious Sub treasury proposition, with a vituperative energy of to prevent a diminution of the coin, was inexpression rarely witnessed on the floor of Cond cumbent on the government; and this might g: 288.

We hope that this speech of Mr Webster will. atterly dispel the fog in which this subject has from resorting to direct taxation in this case. been purposely obscured by the Van Buren He quoted facts from the history of the land of Renton-Loco Foco Administration, and inevitably hasten the change in popular sentiment, of which the recent elections both in this State and elsewhere have given such unequivocal indicutions. The PEOPLE begin to understand the true question at issue, and they understand it to be precisely as stated by Mr. Webster.

Whether we shall have a National Currency, for the Government and for the PEOPLE, or whether wo shall have a currency, for the exclusive benefit of the Office holders (Mr. Van Buren's definition of Government) leaving the Proper to take care of themselves. This is the point for the decision of the People. And they will decide it, we have no doubt, in such manner asto convince Mr. Van Buren that he has been as miserably mistaken in his understanding of the popular will, as Mr. Webster has sufficiently proved him to be, in his construction resolution. of the Constitution.

ADJOURNMENT OF CONGRESS. The 16th inst species to have been determined upon as the time of the adjournment of the present session. There was no gentleman, he believed who entertained any expectation of restoring a pure metallic currency. The utmost limit of any-reasonable expectation was that a sound and mixed currency ought to be established. It was the duty of the Government to provide such mixed currency of coin and of convertible paper. The practical effect of an unrestrained circulation of inconvertible ere the creators of the paper, it was idle to while the restraining-power of the latter was requisite to prevent the banks from issuing that quantity and quality of paper which would expel the coin. THE MESSAGE NOTE

BANES AND BANKING In my last No. I showed how naturally paper money may come to represent capital of all kinds. How by means of it, such capital is brought into active use for the purposes of business. How it is made to encourage industry, give employment to labour, make a demand for agricultural productions, and contribute to the advancement and improvement of the country. I proceed now to speak of our banks as actually One of our country banks, with $100,000 capital will, in ordinary times, have in circulation, bills to the amount of perhaps fifty, or sixty thousand dollars. To meet this they will have on hand generally, not more than $10,000 in specie. But they will have likewise notes against individuals to the amount of $100,000 $150,000. These notes must trave at heast two good names upon them. Now the bank bills represent this specie and the demands in the bank or rather the property of the individuals whom the demands are against. Such banke will, if well managed, be perfectly safe. For though they may have but little specie on hand. yet they have auxole property in derived deside secure the payment of their bills. And the thus five times, the bank would owe the Govamount of specie will be enough to supply the demand for it in ordinary times. If in such to pay it with. If the Government should call times a run should be made upon any bank and on the Bank for their specie, the bank must seldom that such a general run is made upon all, or many of the banks, as to render this difficult. But an extraordinary period of general embarrassment may occur, when there will be an unusual demand for specie. People may get into a panic and be afraid to trust the bank bills or there may be a demand for specie to be sent treme cases of this kind may occur which shall compel the banks to stop payment for a time. Such a period occurred about twenty years ago. with regard to the South-western banks. But we believe it has never happened in New England before the present time. Some complain bitterly of the bunks at this they have promised to pay, and which the law makes payable in specie. But liave those who thus complain, suffered any thing by the stoppage of payments? Will not their bills procure them as much of other articles as they would before? Will they not in fact procure more of other articles than they would before? If so? the holders have lost nothing. The law makes all debts and demands payable in specie, it not otherwise expressed. Every individual who has a demand against another may call for the payment of it as soon as it is due; in specie. The banks may require all their debtors to pay them in specie. But it would produce great dise. tress to enforce this right. Banks however, I will admit, are expected to pay in specie when required. And nothing but a very extraordinary state of things ban justify a temporary refusal

If however, in order to avoid the chance of a necessity of stopping payments, you should insist upon it that banks shall not loan out more bills than they have specke on hand, then I say that you destroy all the benefit arising from the use of paper money, ... The banks might as well let out the specie as their bille. They would be ry notes, sent from the Senate to this House, of no use except to receive money on deposit and take care of it for the owners. And except in large cities, shey would not be able to pay The resolution declaring that it is inexpedi-ent to chaiter a National Bank was again taken ness. well as our pure specie. There were several nauses in operation to produce the present stoppage of specie pay. ments. One was the two great multiplication of State banks and increave of bank paper which followed the destruction of the U. B. Bunk, waking an extraordinary dear-nd for apecie. Furthese britishs we best windebted to fortigate nations to an amount beyond our immediate means of payment. When a debt has thus been created, whether by the importation of specie or other merchandize, and the necessities of foreign creditors makes them urgent for payment, then if we have not productions of our own that they want, sufficient to pay the debt, we must pay their balance in specie. And the specie that has been imported must be sent back again. And the banks will he called upon to supply it. If at such a time the specie should, by the operations of Government, or other means, have been drawn from the commercial cities to other places, the pressure upon the banks in those cities will be doubled. And this effect was pro-

And as the sales of lands continued to go on at the rate of about a book 68 page 97 million of dollars a month, the banks in the commercial cities were drained to supply the demand. The banks in the West were not ultimately benefitted by the specie thus transferred. though it was deposited in them after having hann wesived as the Build Omers. For the banks:loaned it out to speculators to purchase more land. The speculators paid it again into the Land Offices, and it was again deposited in the Banks to be loaned out again, and go round another circle. This is what the President alludes to in his Message, when he says -" Specie was indeed more difficult to be procured than the notes which the banks could themselves create at pleasure; but still being obtained from them as a loan, and returned to them as a deposit, which they were again at liberty to use, it only passed round the circle with diminished speed.

This course of things was of no eventual benefit to the Western banks, because at every House of Representatives, March 3, 1837, operation a debt was created to the Government, without any increase of means to pay it, except the notes of land speculators, which have not turned out so good as those of business men Thus, suppose that $10,000 should be paid into a Land Office, it would thence be deposited in a Pet-bank. And the bank would consequently owe the Government $10,000. The bank would then loan it to speculators on their notes. The speculators would pay it into the Land Offices again, for more hand. And it would be again descoited, tobe again boned. If it went found ed to notify the industributents of and fowns, planernment $50,000 and have but $10,000 in specie stop payment.

It must not be inferred from what I have said of the benefits of bank paper, that I think it may be increased to any mount. There is a certain amount which the wants of the country demand, and which can only be ascertained by experience. Any increase of banks or bank paper beyond this amount produces mischief. Whether the increase of banks should be limitabroad, or, owing to government regulations, it ed by Government or left to the judgment of the and those opposed to the amendment expressing may be in an unnatural position at home. MORISON'S PILLS!!!! F. 4 I. S. WHITMAN, Agents, Bangar, the iffends of Hygeranism and the public generally, are again cautioned against the unprin-cipled attempts of apothecaries and quack doctors. o destroy all confidence in these highly valuable and almost indispensable family medicines, by the cry of imposition! exorbitant prices! falsehood! and more han all, by the astonishing benevolence of the craft in imparting to the world their wonderful discovery of the composition of them that a three dollar pack et costs but one shilling that any person can make hem, etc. Counterfeiters also, beware of the law. The British College of Health have recently recovered damages of the makers and venders of a spurious, dangerous article, in the cour's of Massachuseits and New York; and their exclusive right and property in the sale, is firmly established and confirmed in his country. Two hundred thousand dollars worth of these simple and effective medicines are sold annually in the United States, and injury from them is unheard of One cause of the high price They hear, is a heavy export duty paid in England; yet they are incompar ably cheaper than any patent medicines ever offered vaving, as they do, expensive and protracted fits of sickness.

. The gequine article cannot be bought of apothé caries, travellers, or pediars, they being denied the sale throughout the world. The only place in this section where they can be had, is at the store of F 1. S. WHITMAN.
